

Faculty-supervised short-term program Request form

Aquarius assists colleges and universities in developing tailor-made faculty-supervised short-term programs in Paris. These programs run from 1 day to 2 weeks or more, year-round and are custom-designed to meet the academic needs and objectives of specific courses. Programs consist of lectures by university faculty, professional practitioners, government officials, and business leaders. A unique feature is the opportunity to incorporate field trips to companies, organizations, and agencies related to the course. Cultural and social events can be included, which allow students the chance to experience the magnificent cultural amenities the City of Lights has to offer.

Aquarius is the specialist in work, volunteer and study abroad programs for students, recent graduates and young professionals.
